San Francisco, October cold which would soon past away. Shortly after this I noticed a dull, and at times a neuralgic, plin in my head, but as it would come one day and be gone the next, I paid but little attention to it. However, my stomach was out of order and my food often failed to digest, causing at times great inconvenience. Yet I had no idea, even as a physician, that these things meant anything serious or that a monatrous disease was becoming fixed upon me. Candidly, I thought I was suffering from malaria and so dectored myself accordingly. But I got no batter. I rext noticed a peculiar color and odor about the fluids I was passing; also that there were large quantities one day and very little the large quantities one day and very little the next, and that a persistent froth and scum appeared upon the surface, and a sediment settled in the bottom. And yet I did not realize my danger, for, indeed, seeing these symptoms continually, I finally became accustomed to them, and my suspicion was wholly disarmed by the fact that I had no

He cut himself loose from the most creditable portion of his He did all this when he denounced the railroads for not paying their taxes, and when he questioned the soundness of Judge Field's decision in the railroad tax cases. For it is of record that Mr. Estee when in the Constitutional Convention was opposed to the scheme of railroad taxation which Judge Field has declared invalid. Had his advice been taken in the Convention the railroads would have been taxed equitably, and they never would or could have resisted taxation. But how can Mr. Esteo denounce the corporations for not submitting to a scheme of taxation which he himself declared to be unjust and unconstitutional? And how can he find fault with the Circuit Court for holding his own views upon this question? He believed, when in the Convention, that the methods proposed of the whole theory of railroad regulation, for assessing the railroads involved an un. and we have the Chronicle's word for the just discrimination against those corpora. statement that it was written by John T. tions. zed that Mr. Estee is bound in consistency to defend the railroad in the tax cases, and to maintain the soundness of Judge Field's decision; since not to do these things is to wrong his own intelligence and foresight, and to make himself out at cross-purposes with his own record. And when a gentlemen of Mr. Estee's fine mind commits mistakes of this kind, so palpable, not to say flagrant, uncharitable people-of whom unhappily the world is full-are prone to detect in the act what they call demagogism. What such censorious persons say is, that Mr. Estee "has gone back" on himself, because it is his immediate object to make an anti-railroad record for himself, and because his former positions do not iit in to that purpose. They say that he has theredoes not mean, and even to stultify him. self, rather than run the risk of losing votes by maintaining his consistency. And the friends of Mr. Estee find it quite impossible to defend him against this kind of criticism, for the reason that it is founded on what appears to be the truth. All this is very discouraging, and the more so because it really was not good policy, even taking the lowest standard. for Mr. Estee to brand himself as an antirailroad demagogue in this community. He ought to have known that he could not man can help himself here by denouncing the railroad. No man can do other than injure himself by taking that course. HOODLUMS AND CHINESE. A few days ago a number of Chinese laborers returned to San Francisco from Arizona and New Mexico, and as they made their way through Chinatown they were assaulted and maltreated most cruelly and persistently by a large number of hoodlums, who were encouraged in their brutality by another group of hulking adult ruffians. At Stockton, more recently, a lot of hoodlums undertook to rob a Chinaman, and then shot him in the legs with revolvers. In neither of these cases were any arrests made. Of course impunity in the perpetration of cowardly brutality encourages the young blackguards who commit these offenses. Of course also they fore determined to say things which he are all the bolder because grown men laugh at their infamous behavior, and think it good sport to see Chinamen baited. If the baited Chinamen should on some such occasion turn upon their persecutors and kill a few of them, perhaps it would teach the rest to conduct themselves decently, and it certainly would not diminish the number of respectable citizens.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING, Between 1,000 and 1,100 people assembled at Armory Hall last night to hear speeches from prominent Democrats. Not over twothirds of the people were provided with seats, yet between 300 and 400 patiently stood from 8 o'clock until 10:45. The Hussar band during the evening furnished music. There were a number of ladies in the galleries. Hugh M. LaRue, Chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, called to order, and after a few remarks he introduced Judge McKune as Chairman, who made a brief speech and called for three cheers for Ohio, which were given. He then announced the which were given. He then announced the other officers proposed for the evening and they were elected: Vice-Presidents, John Q. Brown, Philip Scheld, Dr. Davis, W. D. Comstock, E. P. Figs, W. J. O'Brien, P. Dunlap, L. Nicolaus, Peter McGraw, Add. C. Hinkson, Chris. Weisel, M. Wilson, Matt. F. Johnson, Terry McMorry, D. E. Alexander, D. H. Quinn, Wm. Guttenberger; Secretaries, Ed. F. Smith, Thomas Fox, J. W. Willem

The first speaker was Fred. Cox, candidate for Senator, who sketched his own history; explained how he acquired his lands by pur-chase; appounced his policy of disposal of them; indorsed the party platforms, and asked for the votes of the people. He pointed to his life in the community as a guarantee for his future acts. He was opposed to further deposition of 'debris, and appealed to voters to vote the whole Democratic ticket.

After music by the band Dr. Manlove, candate for Senator, spoke. He indorsed the platforms of his party, favored the State. platforms of his party; favored the State printing text-books for the free schools; indorsed the Sunday law piank in the plat-form; held that Sunday was an insti-tution of the land aside from the law; was sounder on "slickens," if possible, than anything else; and as to railroad companies, wanted them to be the same before the law

Gillis Doty, candidate for the Assembly, spoke next, and at greater length than any. He indorsed the platform; at first had favored enforcement of the Sunday law. In answer to a voice from the audience said he favored its repeal, as it is ineffective, opposed to republican principles, and as it is being used for purposes not proper, and is not in accord with public sentiment; was a temperdates on the Republican ticket.

John T. Carey, candidate for District Attorney, sooke only to excuse himself in order to give place to United States Senator Far-Sacramento: denied that he had been im-properly influenced in his efficial acts, and sketching the history of Chinese bills in Congress and the relation the two parties had to them, and the part he and General Miller and claimed the credit for the bill that became law was due the Democracy. He declared his belief in the success of the State ticket; referred to the Ohio election, that disintegration is taking place in the Rethe tariff and bank questions, with an appeal to Republicans to vote with his party, admit-ting that it cannot succeed without Repubcan votes, and especially urged the election

Another Case.—A man who gave the name of J. L. Henderson was arrested yesterday by officers Burke and Lee upon the arrival of the noon train from San Francisco and lashed was for a facility. and locked up for safe keeping. He was insane from the use of liquor. He had on his person $165.95 and an emigrant baggage check. From San Jose it has been learned by telegraph that he purchased an emigrant ticket at that place for Missouri by way of the Southern route. It appears that through the influence of liquor he missed his way and reached Port Costs, where he boarded the overland express on Wednesday evening, but was put off at Suisun. At that time he had his emigrant ticket, but has lost it since. He claims also to have been robbed of a watch.

CITY TAX CASES, Argument in Behalf of Defendants Resisting the Tax Levy.

In the Superior Court yesterday, Judge Denson presiding, the hearing of the argument on demurrer in the case of the People vs. Rigney was resumed. It is an action brought by the direction of the city authorities, in the name of the people of the State, to recover delinquent city taxes, and is one of a number of similar cases. A synopsis of the argument made in behalf of the city has already been given in the RECORD-UNION. J. W. Armstrong, one of the counsel for the defendant, addressed the Court yesterday. He directed his argument to the two leading points in the case: First-That it A horse belonging to John F. Cooper ran is not within the power of the Legislature to authorize the State to bring actions for the city to collect delinquent municipal taxes. Second—That the tax which can be levied Second—That the tax which can be levied and collected for city purposes under the charter is limited to 1 per cent., and therefore a levy of 2 per cent. is illegal and void. The city charter was passed under the old Constitution, and was not repealed by the new. Section 33 of Acticle IV. of the old Constitution gave to all corporations "the right to sue," and provided that they "shall be subject to be sued in all Courts, in like cases as natural persons." The right of the city then—a corporasons." The right of the city then—a corpora-tion—to sue was guaranteed by the Constitution, and the Legislature cannot take away that right in any matter in which the corporation is interested. Section 31 of the same article of the Constitution provided: "Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special Act, except for municipal purposes. All general laws and special Acts passed pursuant to this section may be altered from time to time, or repealed." The special Act incorporating the city of Sacramento was passed in 1863, when the old Constitution was in force. The original charter gave the city power to sue in its own name to collect delinquent taxes, and in 1864 an amendment was passed by the Legislature to au horize such suits to be brought in the name of the people of the state. This amendhas no power to take from them any such guarantee. The same argument applies with ual force against Section 39 of the Revenue The forty-ninth section of the charter made that Act applicable to the levy and collection of municipal taxes, but it was not regarded as authorizing suits to be rought in the name of the people, and all uits for the collection of taxes were brough the name of the city until the Act of 1864. Municipal corporations are the basis of resistance to tyranny, and have been since the time of Clovis, and their rights and powers must be clearly defined. In the case of the cople against Lynch, the Supreme Court of alifornia held that the Courts are never estopped from reviewing constitutional ques-tions, and this rule is quite generally laid lown in the other States; and especially has questions directly affected the rights of the people. Even if it was intended by the city charter to authorize delinquent tax actions to be brought in the name of the people, it was not within the power of the Legislature to take from the city its right to sue in its own statutes. The code also provides that all actions shall be brought in the name of the real party in interest, except in certain cases, among which actions for the collection of revenue are not included. The State certainly has no interest in the city taxes, and cannot therefore in any sense be the real party in interest. The right to sue cannot be vested in both State and city. One or the

Mr. Farley referred to the State platform as meeting his views; commended the Sacramento county ticket as uncurpassed; paid a compliment to Sacramento; denied that he had been made to revise or amend the charter, without re-enacting the Act or the section sought to be amended in full, is void under the Constitution. A French savant has explained the graceful gait of the Parisian ladies by means o Darwin's theory of evolution. According to him the streets of Paris were for a lon time after the foundation of the city in very poor condition, as is, indeed, apparent from its original name—Lutstia, or the "City of Mud." The Parisian ladies, in order not to soil their shoes, were forced t walk on tiptoe, which in due time resulte in high heels, and finally in that charming gait which is the admiration and envy o all the women of the civilized world,

Address to the Irish People. DUBLIN, October 19th.—The Committee of the National League have adopted an addrass to the Irish people, in substance as fol-lows: The landlords have combined with the purpose of bracking the spirits of tenants. The dismay which the present scale of judiial rents has created among applicants to the Land Courts renders it more necessary now than ever that the tenantry should be reunited in vigilant and lawful association for the pur-pose of protecting themselves from injustice. The inspiration of our struggle is to the transfer of all local power and patronage from privileged strangers to the hands of the peo-ple, and so fortify the people for the work of

A Belegate with a Will of His Own. DUBLIN, October 19th.—Mr. Louden, the delegate to the Irish National Conference, who was hooted by the Conference on at tempting to speak, writes to the Freeman's Journal that he knows he has drawn upon himself the hatred of the Irish members of Parliament, particularly that of Thomas Power O'Connor. He (Louder) says he alassist the victims of the tyrangy of landlerds. to give bloated salaries to Itish members of Parliament.

Conditional Support. DUBLIN, October 19th .- Hugh O'Donnell, M. PROHIBITION HOME PROTECTION MASS

MEETING. A good audience was in attendance Tuesday night at Masonic Hall, to hear the arguments of the Home Protectionists. Hon. Joel Russell called the meeting to order, and Mr. Fairbanks was elected Chairman. A. B. Hotchkiss, E.q., of San Diego, candidate for Congress at Large, was then introduced and made a forcible argument. He said that the Prohibitionists occupied a happy position in this canvass, were free lances, and were the only party that had made a platform of principles that defied criticiem; that both the Democractic and Republican parties had gone off on the false anti-monopoly issues set up by them in their platform, their real that no one had heard of any special con plaint on the transportation question at the time of the San Jose Convention, but that matter was taken up by Judge Terry, on the theory that every one hates, or could be made to hate the railroad, and it was a good cry to make to slide the whisky fight long with. That when bridge-burner Estee, whose political corpse was already festering in the air, and his confreres met at Sacramenta, they foolishly concluded to copper the Sanday law and go one better on anti monoply humbug; that Estee and his monopolists were already hopelessly distanced by bottle-beer Harrison and his monopoly, and the secret Anti-Monopoly League recently organized on the basis of six dripks for a quarter. Mr. Hotchkiss said that the people of San Diego county had already voted on this anti-monopoly question; that 900 voters out of 1,400 had indersed the action of the Supervisors there in compromising the railroad tax suits; that his people were happy, the railroad having paid into their treasury $80,000, after the tax was declared illegal, and the county rate this year was cut down one half. He said this personal warfare against the railroad and Messrs. Stanford and Crocker was an outrage and wrong; that at the time of the fight over the tax compr. mise in his county it had been stated that the railread company bad always shirked taxes in this State, but it always shirked taxes in this State, but it was shown there satisfactorily that the railroad had paid over $5,900,000 in taxes from 1863 to 1881, and, therefore, such arguments were demagogical and baseless.

Mr. Hotelbies was freenently availabled.

JUST THINK OF IT!

People living one or five hundred miles from Sacramento can purchase goods through our COUNTRY ORDER DEPARTMENT at the same price as though standing in person at our counters. We do not-as many do-make one price for city customers and another for those living at a distance; but all are served alike, and our years of experience in this branch of the business has been sufficient to warrant us to say that all demands will be properly attended to, and that a single trial order cannot fail to establish our standing in this respect, and to insure a continuance of your patronage.
